TULIPS

Among the earliest of colorful flowering plants for your garden are these multi-colored imported beauties. Our list includes what we believe to be the best of the popular priced varieties, seasoned with a few of the most desirable of the newer kinds. All will be displayed with full color pictures to make your selection easy. All are packaged in transparent bags so that you may see the quality as you buy. All are labeled. These features lessen the possibility of mixing which is always present when bulbs are displayed in open bins.

To assure our customers of a top grade mixture of colors and types (all late flowering), we buy the bulbs separately and mix them ourselves. Not to be compared with the ordinary mixtures usually offered. 10 for 59¢; 100 for $5.90

Our bulbs are packed in transparent bags in the amounts specified here. No bags will be "Broken."

On occasion bulbs may be subject to rodent, insect or soil borne disease damage. Because this is so we are not responsible for the crop and any claims must be made within 10 days. (Please indicate second choice)

NARCISSUS

Included here are the old time favorite Jonquils and Daffodils brought up to date in larger sizes, more varied shapes and newer colors. Patches of these can bring excitement to your garden next spring and for many springs to come. Most of them bloom with the earliest Tulips and can be combined with them to create pictures of gay color and rare charm. Grow some in the cutting garden to add brilliant spring color to your home.

FESTIVA MAXIMA — One of the highest rated of the white peonies. $1.25 ea.

MONS. JULES ELIE — A large non-fading, medium pink bomb type peony of exceptional merit. $1.25 ea.

KARL ROSENFELD — A deep glowing red peony that has been a favorite of peony collectors for years. $1.25 ea.

BLEEDING HEART

Robert Fortune discovered it on a small island in the South China Sea and introduced it to England. From there it came to grace the gardens of our great-grandmothers. Its graceful pink and white heart shaped loveliness is just as popular today. $1.25 ea.

DAYLILIES (Hemerocallis)

There are few perennials which can equal the modern daylily for ease of growth, length of bloom period or freedom from insects or diseases. Flowering during midsummer, they give a valuable color lift to gardens at a time when it is most needed. We have six varieties displayed with full color pictures to make your selection easy. 60¢ ea.

IRIS (Tall Bearded)

As the spring flowers decline, these large, colorful beauties take over. Aptly named for the goddess of the rainbow; they furnish colors found in no other class of hardy plants. Again full color pictures are used to show you the six kinds we have on display. 59¢ ea.

ORIENTAL POPPY

The massive orange red flowers of the species are well known to most of us. Here are three newer colors of even larger size with the same silky petals that give them their wide appeal. Pink, red or white, black markings. 79¢ ea.

HARDY AMARYLLIS (Lycoris squamigera)

The leaves appear in early spring, then disappear. These are followed by two foot stalks bearing rose colored lily-like flowers in August. Give them a bit of shade and the flowers last longer. 3 for $1.25

LILIES

MADONNA LILY (Chateau de Narce strain) (Lilium candidum) — This superior strain of Madonna Lilies is grown in the north of France where they have been reselected for quality for over 300 years. As this variety makes a fall growth of leaves it should be planted early. These are available by the first of September. The fragrant white flowers are grown on 3-4 ft. stalks and are effective when planted with delphiniums. They flower in June. Individually wrapped. 50¢ ea.

RUBRUM LILY (Lilium speciosum rubrum) — The white recurved and twisted petals are center-splashed with pink and spotted with maroon. 3½-4 feet high. Aug. and Sept. 3 for $1.35

Jan de Graaff LILIES — This year we will have 12 named types of these newer, better lilies, including whites, yellows, oranges, reds and intermediate self colors and others which are spotted with black or brown. All will be displayed with full color pictures to make your selection easy. Available by mid or late October. 3 of one kind in plastic bags. $1.67 per bag

BULB PLANTING AIDS

Bulbs need food. This is best supplied by fertilizers relatively low in nitrogen but high in phosphoric acid. Bulb-tone is such a fertilizer. It is made with an organic base high in Bone Meal and is especially formulated for feeding bulbs, rhizomes, corms and tubers. If you use rotted manure, be sure to cover it with at least a couple of inches of soil before planting. In contact with the bulbs and their newly forming roots it can lead to botrytis blight and disastrous results. Manures are not good mulches for bulb beds. Rather use salt hay which neither heats nor contributes to disease incidence.

Before planting you may wish to protect your bulbs against insect and soil-borne diseases. This you can do easily by shaking them up in a paper bag with Spergon Bulb Dust. This is also good treatment for glads, dahlias and other summer bulbs you will be storing for winter. Treat them before storing and again in the spring at planting time.

SALT HAY — Per bale (about 50 lbs.), $2.50 each

Barnes SHADE TREES

As these trees are dug only after they have properly ripened, they will be available from mid to late October through the balance of the fall planting season. Most of the listed kinds will be display as soon as they can be safely moved.

NORWAY MAPLE — Dense, compact head makes it the most popular tree for street planting. 6-8 ft., $5.95 each; 8-10 ft. 1¼ in. cal., $9.00 each; 10-12 ft. 1½ in., $12.00 each; 10-12 ft. 1¾ in., $16.00 each; 12-14 ft. 2 in., $22.00 each.

CRIMSON KING MAPLE (Plant Patent No. 735) — A form of Norway Maple which has deep red purple foliage all season. 6-8 ft., $7.50 each

SUGAR MAPLE — The brilliant red, yellow and orange foliage of our most colorful native tree is known to everyone. Long-lived splendid shade tree. 8-10 ft., 1¼ in., $10.50 each; 10-12 ft., 1½ in., $13.50 each; 10-12 ft., 1¾ in., $16.00 each.

GINKGO — A durable, well shaped tree with unusual fan shaped foliage which turns bright yellow in the fall. 5-6 ft., $7.50 each

SHADEMASTER LOCUST (Plant Patent No. 1515) — Unlike most fast growing trees, these locusts are tough and usually not injured by ice or windstorm damage. Grass grows well beneath them. Thornless. 5-6 ft., $7.50 each

SOURWOOD — White clusters of flowers in mid-summer and brilliant red fall color make this a "different" tree. 4-5 ft., $6.00 each

MOUNTAIN ASH — An attractive hardy tree for lawns. Compound foliage, clusters of white flowers in May followed by orange berries from July to winter make it distinctive from other trees. 6-8 ft., $6.00 each; 8-10 ft., $8.00 each

FLOWERING CRABS

ALMEY — The largest flowered and one of the deepest colored of all crabs. Red fruit. $3.75 ea.

CARMINE — Brilliant carmine rose flowers. $3.50 ea.

DOLGO — White flowers followed by large bright red apples excellent for jelly. $3.50 ea.

ELEY — Wine-red flowers and reddish purple new foliage. Red fruits. $3.50 ea.

HOPA — Rose colored flowers. One of the most popular. Red fruits. $3.50 ea.

IRENE — One of the newer, red flowered kinds. $3.75 ea.

MARSHALL OYAMA — Valued as the most narrowly upright of the crabs. Pink and white flowers. Yellow fruits. $3.50 ea.

PRINCE GEORGES — Light pink double flowers. Upright and dense. $3.50 ea.

REDBUD — Deep red buds open to pure white flowers. Red fruits. $3.50 ea.

Last call for trimming maples until next summer. Eight or ten strong well placed branches on younger trees are better than thirty or forty weaker ones.
